The Delaware Supreme Court to temporarily move oral arguments to Kent County Courthouse during courthouse renovation and repairs

The temporary move expected to last several months

Starting this week, the Delaware Supreme Court will hear oral arguments at the Kent County Courthouse in Dover, Delaware. The move to Courtroom 1 in the adjacent courthouse is required due to interior renovations and exterior repair work at the Delaware Supreme Court building on the Green in Dover.

Attorneys scheduled to appear before the Court should check with the Court Clerk for updates.

Oral arguments will continue to be available on the Court's livestream channel that can be accessed through the Delaware Judiciary's website.
